RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS' MEETING.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED—HEAVY FALL OF RAIN—GREAT DAM-AGE DONE—WEATHER.

[Special Dispatch to the Missouri Democrat.] SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 2, 1 a.m.—The Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners held a full session at Belleville, St. Clair county, on the 30th ult., which meeting superceded the regular one, which would be held at their office in this city on Tuesday next. The commission has been traveling through the southern part of the state on an official tour of inspection of railroads, and have visited the following railroad centers, having examined seven different railroads and branches during the past week, namely: Bloomington, Springfield, Godfrey, East St. Louis, Belleville, Vandalia, Pana and Decatur. The board resume their inspection travels next week, and will continue in this work until the entire state has been canvassed, which will take till the first week in July.

One of the heaviest rains that has visited this section of the state, occurred last night and yesterday. It rained incessantly all night, and has done a vast amount of damage, not only in this city but in all the surrounding country.
Quite a number of cellars were flooded, and in three instances the water poured into the first stories of dwellings, driving the residents to other and more comfortable quarters. In one house, used as an upholstering establishment, quite a large number of carpets were nearly ruined by the dirty water which poured in upon them. Drains, sewers, &c., were washed out and otherwise damaged. Nearly all the unburnt bricks in the yards near our city were destroyed, one firm losing over ten thousand. A portion of the Springfield and Illinois Southern railroad was washed away, but was repaired today.
The Leland Hotel bar and billiard rooms were flooded with water and mud, three inches deep. The Sangamon river is out of its banks and the bottom lands all flooded. Ponds that have been dry for years are now full of water. It is estimated by some that six inches of water, and by others ten inches, fell on Saturday night.

The storm was general as far as can be ascertained, and no doubt has done great damage.

PRESERVATION OF MR. BENNETT'S RE-MAINS.

New York, June 2.—The body of James Gordon Bennett is to be preserved and sent to the arrival of his son and daughter from Europe, which will be some time next week.

PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION NEWS.
The Times' special from Philadelphia says the New York delegation will be there on Monday, and on Tuesday will elect a chairman, select committees, and come to some determination as to the vice-president. There appears to be some division of sentiment as to this, and it is thought Henry Wilson will have a large vote among them. Colfax, also, has strength, and will probably receive nearly half of the total vote.

William D. Beckham, of the Ohio delegation, has arrived, and announces that Craighall has a letter from Gov. Denton withdrawing as a candidate, and that Colfax will receive the vote of nearly the whole of this delegation.

The vice presidency is dubious, and although just now the contest is between Colfax and Wilson, it is difficult to say who will be chosen. The Connecticut delegation has determined to bring forward Gen. Hawley, and he may be a compromise candidate.

THE CAMPAIGN.
GOV. BROWN'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

DEMOCRAT CONVENTION INDORS-ING GREELEY.

[Special Dispatch to the Republican.]
GOV. BROWN'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 1.—The following is Gov. Brown's acceptance of the Cincinnati nomination for vice-president:

CINCINNATI, May 3, 1872.
Hon. B. GRANT BROWN, St. Louis, Mo.: DEAR SIR: The National convention of the Liberal Republicans of the United States has instructed the undersigned, president, vice-president and secretaries of the convention, to inform you that you have been nominated as the candidate of the Liberal Republicans for the vice-presidency of the United States. It is pleased to signify to you your acceptance of the nomination, and believe us very truly yours,
C. SCHURZ, President.
W. E. McLEAN,
JOHN X. DAVISON,
J. H. RHODES,
Secretaries.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE.
JEFFERSON CITY, May 31, 1872.

GENTLEMEN: Your letter advising me of the action of the liberal republican convention at Cincinnati has been received, and I return through you my acknowledgement of the honor which has been conferred upon me. I accept the nomination as a candidate for vice president, and indorse most cordially the resolutions setting forth the principles on which this appeal is made to the whole people of the United States.

A century is closing upon our experience of republican government, and while that lapse of time has witnessed great expansion of our free institutions, yet it has not been without illustration also of great dangers to the stability of such system.
Of those successfully encountered it is needless to speak; of those which remain to menace us the most threatening are provided against, as I firmly believe, in the wise and pacific measures proposed by your platform.

It has come to be the practice of those elevated to positions of national authority to regard the public service not as a public trust, but only as a means to retain power. This results in substituting a more party organization for the government itself; constitutes a control amenable to no laws or moralities, impairs all independent thought, enables the few to rule the many, and makes personal ambition the rule to follow. It requires little forecast to perceive that this will wreck our liberties unless there be interposed a timely reform of administration, from its lowest to its lowest station, which shall not only forbid those abuses but likewise take away the incentive to their practice.
Wearied with contentions that are carried on in avarice of spoils the country demands reform, resents the efforts of officials to drag it again into partisan hostilities, and will zealously support any movement promising a sure deliverance.

Of the perils which have been connected with the war, it is safe to say that only those are now to be feared which come of an abuse of victory into permanent establishment. The union is fortified by more power than ever before, and it remains as an imperative duty to cement our nationality by a perfect reconciliation.
At the north a widespread sympathy is aroused in behalf of those states of the south which long after the termination of resistance to constitutional federal authority are still plundered under the guise of loyalty, and tyrannized over in the name of freedom.
Along with this feeling is present too the recognition that in complete amnesty alone can be found hope of any return to constitutional government as of old, or any development of a more enduring unity, and broader national life in the future. Amnesty, however, to be efficacious must be real, not nominal; genuine, not evasive. It must carry along with it equal rights as well as equal protection to all; for removal of disabilities as to some, with enforcement as to others; leave room for suspicion that pardon is measured by political gain. Especially will such proffered clemency be futile in presence of renewed attempt at prolonging a suspension of the habeas corpus, in persistent resort to martial rather than civil law, in upholding those agencies used to alienate races where concord is most essential, and in preparing another elaborate campaign on a basis of dead issues and arbitrary interventions. All will rightly credit such conduct as but a mockery of amnesty, and demand an administration which can give better warrant of honesty in the great work of reconstruction and reform.

In the array of sectional interests a republic so widespread as ours is never entirely safe from serious conflict. These become still more dangerous when complicated with questions of taxation where unequal burdens are believed to be imposed on one part at the expense of another part. It was a bold as well as admirable policy in the interest of future tranquility to withdraw the decision of industrial and revenue matters from the virtual arbitration of an electoral college, chosen with a single animating purpose of party ascendancy, and refer them for a more direct popular expression to each congressional district. Instead of being muzzled by some evasive declaration, the country is thereby invited to the frank utterance, and sections which would revolt at being denied a voice, out of deference to other success, would be content to acquiesce in a national judgment honestly elicited. If local government be, as it most undoubtedly is, the most vital principle of our institutions, much advance will be made towards re-establishing it by enabling the people to pass upon questions so nearly affecting their well-being as taxation, and to determine their representation. The precipitancy which would force a controlling declaration of tax or tariff through a presidential candidacy, is only a disguised form of centralization involving hazardous reaches of executive influence.

These are the most prominent features of that general concert of action which proposes to replace the present administration by one more in sympathy with the aspirations of the masses of our countrymen.
Of course such concert cannot be attained by thrusting every minor or past difference into the foreground, and it will be for the people, therefore, to determine whether these objects are of such magnitude and present urgency as to justify them in deferring other adjustments until the country shall be first restored to a free suffrage, uninfluenced by official dictation, and ours becomes in fact a free republic, released from apprehension of a central domination.

Without referring in detail to the various other proposals embraced in the resolutions of the convention, but seeing how they all contemplate a restoration of power to the people, peace to the nation, purity to the government, that they condemn the attempt to establish an ascendancy of military over civil rule, and accordingly, in the maintenance of equal freedom to all citizens, irrespective of race, previous condition, or pending disabilities, I have only to pledge again my sincere co-operation.

I have the honor to remain,
Very respectfully yours,
B. GRANT BROWN.

To Hon. Carl Schurz, president; Hon.
George W. Julian, vice president; and Messrs. W. E. McLean, John G. Davison, J. H. Rhodes, secretaries National convention of Liberal Republicans of the United States.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
MR. VERNON, ILL., April 11, 1872.

Editor Cairo Bulletin:
DEAR SIR:—Please to announce me as a candidate for Clerk of the Supreme Court, Southern Grand Division of Illinois. The new constitution provides that the Clerks of the Supreme Court shall hereafter be elected at the November election, instead of the June election as heretofore.
The successor of the present incumbents are to be elected this coming fall, but will not qualify until the present terms expire in 1873.
Respectfully,
R. A. D. WILKINS.

C. Hanny wishes the public to be informed that he has on hand a Stock of Goods as extensive as any in the Southwest, and that he is determined to sell every article at prices Lower than the Lowest. Call on him to-day and examine goods and pri-will satisfy you both as ty and cost.
